Steve Siegel Co-Chairs ABA Annual Conference for Litigators, April 24 to 26, 2013 in Chicago

APRIL 18TH, 2013

Stephen J. Siegel

Next week, Stephen J. Siegel, a partner at Novack and Macey LLP, will welcome attorneys and judges from across the country to the American Bar Association (ABA) Section of Litigation Annual Conference. Steve is co-chairing the conference with three other Section leaders.

The conference will be held in Chicago from Wednesday, April 24 to Friday, April 26. The conference is regarded as the premier Continuing Legal Education (CLE) and networking opportunity for litigators in North America. Over 1,000 attorneys are registered and expected to attend. Link

Novack and Macey is a conference sponsor. The firm is a litigation boutique of 32 attorneys who represent clients in a wide variety of disputes involving trial and appellate practice in federal and state courts, arbitrations and mediations.

Steve has been a partner at Novack and Macey for 15 years and a leader of the ABA Section of Litigation for the past four years. Steve has a broad business litigation practice, with a focus on privately held company and securities disputes, energy disputes and real estate litigation.
